SLENKER,

SURVEYOR GENERAL,
JAMES P. BARR,

A Divided North.

It is a "divided North" alone that has heretofore the rebellion its present magnitude...

As long as we have a "divided North" we may expect...

We must get rid, then, of a "divided North," if we ever hope to terminate this war by the overthrow of the rebellion...

Discouraging Enlistments.

If there are any persons in this State disposed so far to sympathize with rebellion as to discourage enlistments, we desire to call their attention to an act of the Legislature of 1861, which, among other things, provides that "if any person or persons belonging to or residing within this State shall endeavor to persuade any person or persons from entering the service of this State or the United States, or from joining any volunteer company or association of this State..."
